A Sow may have between 6 and 18 piglets in her litter. Pigs are omnivores. That means they can eat grains, vegetables, fruit and meat. In the United States we feed our pigs grains like corn, wheat and soybeans. Pigs that are fed grain have less fat and more meat. Pigs are raised to provide several pork products. Pig skin is used as leather to make shoes and footballs. Doctors use pig skin for people who have been burned. Pigs are also used to make some medicines.
